The mission of the H. Fred Simons African American Cultural Center (AACC) is to promote cultural preservation, quality leadership, and academic excellence through a unique approach to cultural advocacy, academic support, and community outreach.

The goals of the H. Fred Simons African American Cultural Center are:

- To promote cultural preservation through the promotion of cultural awareness and an understanding of the traditions and history of African Americans in the United States and people of African descent
- To provide a supportive and welcoming environment to students, faculty, and staff
- To promote an understanding and a respect for diversity, multiculturalism and equity issues
- To promote programming events and activities for cultural enrichment of all students, faculty and staff
- To assist students in navigating the resources of the University by serving as a liaison to academic support services and opportunities
- To enhance and support the efforts of the University of Connecticut Office of Admissions, the Office of Enrollment Management and other UConn departments in the recruitment and retention of students of the African diaspora.

The AACC staff consists of a Center Director, a Cultural Center Assistant, and student workers.
