The Graduate Student and Postdoctoral Affairs (GSPA) team supports the graduate education community at UConn, which includes the Higher Education and Student Affairs Master's program. We offer services to graduate students and postdocs to enrich their academic experience and find solutions to tough challenges. We serve as the hub for many administrative functions that involve graduate students. In addition, we provide programming and support to help faculty and staff work effectively with graduate students. Our goal is to help scholars achieve their academic, professional, and personal goals.
