ABOUT US

NACP is here to serve UConn's Native and Indigenous students while educating our surrounding UConn community on our histories, cultures, traditional ways of life & more

WHAT WE OFFER

During Fall semester we celebrate Indigenous Peoples' Week and Native American Heritage Month with events and programming that are informative on Indigenous cultures & issues

We collaborate with other organizations on campus to put on educational & informative programming, and bring inclusivity and diversity to our campus community

The Native American & Indigenous Students Association educates and advocates on behalf of current issues, events, tradition etc. All are welcome to join whether you identify as Native and/or Indigenous or not

Our cultural and educational exchange mentorship program, partners with local Indigenous nations to establish mentorship ties between UConn undergrads and Native highschool students

NACP works to create higher education opportunities, extend resources, and offers graduate GA-ship opportunities
